

FULBRIGHT EXPERTS TALK

Donald Trump's 2024 Presidential Election Victory: Global Implications

Speaker:
Nina Jankowicz
Fulbright Public Policy Fellow
to Ukraine 2016–2017

Nina Jankowicz, Co-Founder and CEO of The American Sunlight Project, is an internationally-recognized expert on disinformation and democratization, one of TIME magazine's 100 Most Influential People in AI, and the author of two books: How to Lose the Information War (2020), which The New Yorker called "a persuasive new book on disinformation as a geopolitical strategy," and How to Be A Woman Online (2022), an examination of online abuse and disinformation and tips for fighting back, which Publishers Weekly named "essential." She has advised governments, international organizations, and tech companies, and testified before the U.S. Congress, and the UK, Canadian, and European Parliaments.

In 2022, Nina Jankowicz led the Disinformation Governance Board, an intra-agency best practices and coordination entity at the Department of Homeland Security. From 2017–2022, Nina has held fellowships at the Wilson Center, where she led accessible, actionable research about the effects of disinformation on women and freedom of expression around the world. She advised the Ukrainian Foreign Ministry on strategic communications under the auspices of a Fulbright-Clinton Public Policy Fellowship in 2016–2017. Early in her career, she managed democracy assistance programs to Russia and Belarus at the National Democratic Institute.
